

BROWN and CHRISTENSEN real estate

SALUTES: Chris Brandon of Brandon Architects, Inc. for Living His Dream

For Chris Brandon of Brandon Architects, Inc., every project is personal. "Each home is a reflection of my client's desires and dreams," he said. "They're the ones who will ultimately reside in the home for many years to come. I love designing unique homes where my clients insert personal elements of design."

Chris, who lives in Costa Mesa with his wife and young son, graduated from Cal Poly SLO in 2002 and launched his own firm in 2009 with just one client. Today, his work can be seen throughout neighborhoods of Newport Beach and Corona del Mar, including homes of all styles, including contemporary, Cape Cod, Mediterranean, traditional and more.

"I garner my inspiration from my clients, and I owe much of my success to my incredible design team," Brandon said. "Andrew Patterson is a fantastic home builder, and as local residents, we work together on many projects to deliver the highest quality product to our joint clients."

Brandon Architects, Inc. is a boutique, full-service architectural design firm specializing in custom residential, multi-family, commercial, and hospitality buildings, including working with builders and investors on spec projects throughout Orange County.

"Our focus is on creating successful projects by providing the very best in architectural service and design,"

"We take a holistic approach with each project, evaluating the needs of the client with the constraints of a site to determine appropriate solutions. Our services ensure that each process is unique and that client expectations are exceeded. Great design is achieved through a unique creative process and implemented using today's latest 3D/BIM project execution tools." Brandon said.

Smart design, he said, also includes sustainable techniques and technology so clients can be green and socially responsible – in an affordable manner.

Clients find that Chris never designs behind closed doors – initial ideas are quickly developed, continually presented for feedback. Visual techniques are used to present each design, including vignette sketching, hand rendering, computer graphics and 3D visualization.

Excellence, Brandon said, is sought at each stage of the project. "The creative process is always open," he said. "By keeping the process fluid and transparent, we aim not only to inform, but to inspire passion in our clients."

To contact Chris Brandon, please call 714.754.4040

Photography by Jeri Koegel | Corona Highlands Home, Corona del Mar

